

The poor young groom is nearly black in the face now explaining how the mistake occurred. It seems that the day before the event he caught the telephone and, finding a certain number corresponding to a certain name, he inquired:

"Is this the Rev. Mr. Brown?"
"Yes sir," came the response.
"Well, I want to get you to officiate at my marriage tomorrow evening."
"Oh, very well. Where is it to take place?"

The would-be groom named a well known residence and was amazed to hear the question:

"I expect you are a white gentleman, aren't you? Well, this is the pastor of the colored Baptist church, but my name's Brown."

It's about time that some people have been abroad for a period to have another of those cheerful books on etiquette offered to an admiring public. The person who prescribed the other one has moved away, but the need is here again, and the shoddy folk who get their manners out of a book have evidently slighted their reading course for the summer.

There was a great deal of water used externally on the occasion of a dinner given during the week, but the protection policy of the company prevented any serious damage.

Now that there is a severe lull in religious circles, several of the devout will be obliged to make pilgrimages up Ogden canyon to worship at the Hermitage today. Though they do say the brand selected by the new management is not up to the ideas of William the Original.

That was a rare and seemingly surprise worked on the young man of devotion (fragmentary) sending the wedding cards so shortly on top of the fond farewells. Well,

"To say why gals act so or so, Or don't, would be presuming." Of course there was nothing left to do but to send the customary good wishes.

The military post is shortly to be missing two of the most popular of the younger matrons. Mrs. E. E. Haskell and Mrs. A. B. Sloan, whose husbands are placed in other stations.

The dance at the Country club last evening was one of the most successful affairs of the summer. The usual rule prohibiting Saturday guests was suspended and all the members were allowed to bring resident visitors. The consequence was a brilliant affair, instead of a small and chilly event. The dance was preceded by a number of dinners varying in number from four to ten guests.

A number of pleasant affairs have been given in the past few weeks in honor of Miss Elsie Ritter, who will be one of the brides of early September. Among them was an automobile ride for a large party given by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott Crismon.

DOHL BARET.

CURRENT EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY CIRCLES

The date set for the marriage of Miss Helen Gillespie and Louis S. Cates is Tuesday, Sept. 12. The wedding will take place in St. Mark's cathedral, Dean James B. Eddie officiating. The bride will be attended by Miss Aileen Maclean, Miss Beatrice Cheeseman and Miss Genevieve Horlick, as bridesmaids, and little Bess Horlick, a small cousin of the bride, will bear the ring. New Autumn Suits and Coats

NOT all here yet, but enough to afford you splendid ideas of the styles that will prevail this season. We are showing a Good, Strong, Sensible Line, combining entire practicality with artistic beauty; more varied and extensive than ever.

AN EARLY INSPECTION IS RESPECTFULLY INVITED

In Suits the present tendency is towards the "Paddock" rage, mannish, long and tight-fitting styles; while the Correct Thing in Coats for the Fall Season of 1905 will be the "Empire" and the Fur Lined and Fur Trimmed Garments. Every model will satisfactorily meet the requirements of particular trade, while the values are such that they are bound to meet your price needs.

First Glimpse of Autumn Hats

MADAM TRUMBO has returned from her Eastern purchasing Trip and will welcome the many friends and admirers of the department over which she presides. Closely following her home-coming is the daily arrival of the Latest Creations in the Milliner's Art. Every new idea in Hats is included in the stock purchased for this season's business, including the latest Patent Leather, Taffeta and Felt three-cornered continental Hats that seem to have caught the popular fancy. There is an individuality and attractiveness about the New Fall Styles that will readily appeal to the most exacting tastes of every lady.

N. B.—Stirring times this week. At the beckoning of the smiling steer, thousands went to Saltair Wednesday and participated in the laugh which was on the seafame steer. Some didn't steer home till toward morning, but all say the butchers and grocers steered them up against a real good time. And the man-who-waits-for-the-car got after the girl in white, and up to the present record of the thermometer the girl in white has the floor. The man shouldn't let the first car go by—that's all.
